Ike "Mild And Serious" Physicians Report

Nixon Seen Commanding Great Strength Within GOP

Leaders Look For President To Withdraw

By Jack Bell

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (P)—Vice President Nixon appears to command today the greatest party organization of any potential Republican presidential candidate if President Eisenhower does not run again.

Within hours of the news of the President's heart attack, Republican leaders were beginning to accept the strong probability that Eisenhower will not consent to seek a second term. Neither were they in a position to bring further pressure on him in that direction.

No Candidate

They found themselves suddenly bereft of the only candidate with whom they felt certain of winning in 1956. They conceded privately they faced a tough, uncertain battle next year with suddenly revived Democrats.

These same Democrats gave every sign of a free-for-all scramble for a nomination most of them had regarded a few hours earlier as offering only a long chance for election.

Some of the ablest Republican strategists said that, as of today, Nixon is second only to Eisenhower in popularity with the GOP state chairmen, governors and others who will play a major role in the selection of delegates to the San Francisco nominating convention next year.

However, these same strategists do not believe Nixon would be able to make a major bid for the nomination without the active support of Eisenhower himself.

While the vice president would have strong support within the party organization, the GOP strategists recalled that even greater organization strength failed to win the nomination for the late Sen. Robert A. Taft in 1952 when Eisenhower took the prize.

Logical Choice

At this point, many of the GOP leaders regard the 43-year-old vice president as the most logical choice by Eisenhower for a successor. The President has repeatedly stressed the Republican party's need to enlist and appeal to the youth of the country.

Some Republican lieutenants expect the President will deputize Nixon to take over some of his burdens while he is recuperating. In the past, Eisenhower has assigned the vice president the job of presiding over Cabinet and National Security Council meetings in his absence.

The President sent Nixon as his representative on good will tours of the Far East and Latin America. He had planned to dispatch the vice president to the Middle East next month but Nixon said today there had been no final decision on that trip because of the President's illness.

Despite all the political breaks Eisenhower has tossed to Nixon, GOP leaders do not rule out the possibility that the President eventually might choose a more mature colleague to receive his support for the nomination.

Warren Mentioned

Chief Justice Earl Warren, who tried to take himself out of consideration for the nomination last April, and Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey are mentioned in that connection. Warren, 64, last March, is only five months younger than the President. Humphrey was 65 last month.

Former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, who is 53, would come closer than many others to fulfilling the President's reputed belief that a vigorous, younger man would be the best choice.

Dewey, who has maintained close political ties with the President, still has a following among Republican party workers. But his two defeats for the presidency would mitigate against his chances for a third nomination even if Eisenhower threw every resource of his office behind the New Yorker.

The President's heart attack appeared to have stopped in its tracks a movement headed by Thomas Stevens, former White House aide, to line up state delegations for a second-term bid. There remained the possibility, however, that many delegations might go to San Francisco pledged to Eisenhower and await developments.

On the other hand, the situation seemed to point to a developing

Hoover Reports Slight Increase In Major Crime Operation During First Half Of '55

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (P)—A slight drop in the number of major crimes committed in this country during the first half of 1955 compared with the corresponding period in 1954 was reported by the FBI today.

The decline was only .7 per cent, however, and Director J. Edgar Hoover said:

"If the trend continues for the remainder of the year, 1955 will be the fourth consecutive year in which more than two million major crimes will have been committed."

Nevertheless, Hoover said 1955 "may show a long overdue break in the upward crime trend of the past seven years."

Decrease

In his semiannual bulletin on "Uniform Crime Reports for the United States," Hoover said an estimated 1,128,350 major crimes were reported in the January-June period of this year, a decrease of 7,590 from the first half of 1954.

Flying Tiger Survivors Are Rescued

HONOLULU, Sept. 25 (P)—The U. S. Coast Guard said the freighter Steel Advocate began picking up Flying Tiger plane survivors late this afternoon about 1,000 miles west of Honolulu.

A Coast Guard plane was circling the area, working with the ship in the rescue operation. An Air Force plane radioed from the submarine Washington:

Team Functions

"Under the President's administration a team has been set up in Washington which will carry out his well-defined foreign and domestic policies . . ."

The Flying Tiger plane had carried a crew of five.

Radios Baffled

The four-engined cargo transport, a DC4, radioed Friday night that it was ditching because three engines had failed.

A massive sea and air search was thrown out yesterday and today.

The plane was carrying military cargo from Travis Air Force Base near San Francisco to Wake Island.

Capt. Anthony J. Machado, 40, Hollywood, Calif., piloted the plane. Others aboard were:

Warren F. Gin, 34, Los Angeles, and Robert C. Hightower, 22, Valjeo, Calif., co-pilots; Richard C. Olsen, 43, Van Nuys, Calif., and Dominick Ventresca, 43, Sepulveda, Calif., navigators.

Convict Is Recaptured

BELLEVONTE, Pa., Sept. 25 (P)—A convict escaped from Rockview State Penitentiary here but was captured tonight about eight miles from the prison after 25 hours of "freedom."

Prison officials said Benjamin Franklin Haney, 27, Fayette County, escaped last night by climbing a stockade during an exercise period.

Expresses Concern

"I wish to express the concern that I share with all the American people for the early and complete recovery of the President. In comparison to this, all other questions and problems are not worthy of discussion."

That, Nixon made it plain, ruled out so far as he was concerned any speculation about the effect of the blanks of incomplete reporting. The portion of the figures that are estimates represents about 19 per cent of the population.

Rural's Down

Total major crimes reported by town and city police decreased 1.4 per cent during the period. Rural crimes dropped a negligible three-hundredths of one per cent. But, the FBI said, this decrease, however slight, "represents an abrupt halt in rising crime totals in rural areas over many years."

The crime decrease for the period was led by robbery, down by 15.1 per cent. Other decreases: Murder and nonnegligent manslaughter down 3.8 per cent; burglary, down .3 per cent; negligent manslaughter, down .3 per cent, and auto theft, down .2 per cent.

Increases were recorded in rape, up 6.3 per cent; aggravated assault, up 1.1 per cent, and larceny, up .9 per cent.

Increases

In his semiannual bulletin on "Uniform Crime Reports for the United States," Hoover said an estimated 1,128,350 major crimes were reported in the January-June period of this year, a decrease of 7,590 from the first half of 1954.

Nixon Breaks Vacation To Pray For His Ill Leader

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (P)—A grave, weary Vice President Nixon emerged from seclusion today and, with his family, joined in public prayer for the full and speedy recovery of his stricken chief.

Afterward Nixon—who would succeed President Eisenhower should the chief executive's heart attack prove fatal—said "the business of the government will go on as usual without delay" during Eisenhower's "temporary absence."

The 42-year-old vice president—he will be 43 on Jan. 9—told newsmen at his Spring Valley home in suburban Washington:

Team Functions

"Under the President's administration a team has been set up in Washington which will carry out his well-defined foreign and domestic policies . . ."

"I emphasize that both Cabinet meetings and National Security Council meetings will go ahead in the same way as if the President had not had his illness."

The Security Council, top policymaking body in the foreign policy and defense matters, will meet next Thursday with Nixon presiding.

Nixon received a group of newsmen in his home after he, Mrs. Nixon and their two young daughters attended regular Sunday service at Westmoreland Congregational Church. They heard the pastor, the Rev. Philip Gordon Scott, pray that Eisenhower "may be restored to the powers of a full life."

As for himself, Nixon, whose whereabouts had been unknown from the time of the announcement of the President's illness yesterday until just before church today, said:

"I find it rather difficult to express, in words, feelings that are so deep."

Expresses Concern

"I wish to express the concern that I share with all the American people for the early and complete recovery of the President. In comparison to this, all other questions and problems are not worthy of discussion."

That, Nixon made it plain, ruled out so far as he was concerned any speculation about the effect of the President's illness on the 1956 election campaign or about Nixon's own political future.

White House Authorities At Denver

White House authorities at Denver kept Nixon informed by telephone throughout the night on the President's condition. The vice president had planned to fly to Denver tomorrow to preside at a physical fitness conference called by the chief executive, but the meeting was postponed as a result of Eisenhower's heart attack.

"Your legislative package has passed the Democratic House, supported by our representatives," the governor said, adding:

"They stand today a few steps from adoption because of the social indifference of the Republican majority of the state senate."

He said the final fate of the workmen's compensation bill "rests in the log jams of legislation that choke up the calendar of Republican Senate committees."

Handicapped Prepared To Give Service

REHABILITATED workers are proving successful in all types of jobs because they are specially prepared and placed, the Pocono Mountain Area Committee on Employment of the Handicapped reported today in urging employers to test for themselves the ability and performance of Commonwealth residents with physical limitations.

Employers were urged to try handicapped workers by Elmer D. Christine, chairman of the local committee, in a special appeal for National Employ the Physical Handicapped Week which is being observed this year from October 2-8.

Many Participating

NEPH Week is observed annually throughout the nation in an effort to inform employers of the capabilities of handicapped workers. Participating in the observance are the State Bureau of Rehabilitation, Pennsylvania State Employment Service, Veterans Administration and other Veterans' organizations, Crippled Children Societies, Medical Societies, Labor Unions, Church organizations, Chamber of Commerce and numerous other Fraternal and Civic organizations, and representatives of employers.

"The handicapped only want an opportunity to compete on equal terms with the able-bodied for vacancies in industrial plants, stores and offices," said Christine. "In no instance do they ask for special privileges or concessions. They only want employers to consider their capabilities."

"In the over-all field of employment there is scarcely a job that some man or woman with a physical or emotional impairment cannot perform well. Very few jobs require all of an individual's physical capability. Perfect specimens are rare, and, fortunately for almost everyone, modern industrial and business systems do not require such perfection for outstanding performance."

Many Contributions

The handicapped have made countless contributions in nearly every field of human endeavor. One need only to look at the illustrious list of persons with physical handicaps who have accomplished outstanding performances, to realize that an individual with an impairment can hold his own if properly placed in employment."

In assuring employers they would obtain highly qualified workers when they give rehabilitated persons employment, Christine pointed out that these persons are prepared physically because they have had the benefit of competent medical services; they were selected for specified jobs through individual counseling and guidance; they received the best possible training for employment that can be obtained in educational institutions. These services are offered by the State Bureau of Rehabilitation, and placement is made by the Bureau in co-operation with the State Employment Service and the other cooperating agencies.

Coal Buying Blasted As "Political"

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (P)—Rep. Mollohan (D-W.Va.) has said an emergency coal buying program announced by the Eisenhower administration a year ago was "simply a vote getting maneuver." Mollohan said the administration has abandoned the program in "it launched with so much fanfare."

A letter from John B. Hollister, director of the International Cooperation Administration, was made public by Mollohan's office. The letter said no special coal program is planned by the foreign aid agency this year.

Harold E. Stassen, Hollister's predecessor as foreign aid administrator, announced in August, 1954 a program of buying coal for shipment overseas. At that time, Stassen said a main objective was relief of unemployment in coal fields.

Mollohan said in a statement yesterday that only 1,300,000 tons of an announced 10 million tons had been purchased for the foreign aid. He said only 44,800 tons were bought in West Virginia.

The West Virginia Democrat said "I have long suspected that no such program actually existed and that this announcement last fall, at the height of the Congressional election campaign, was simply a vote getting maneuver directed at the principal coal producing areas."

"Now I can state with authority that no honest effort was ever made to implement it."

Highway Bond Issue Sound

READING, Pa., Sept. 25 (P)—Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.) said last night he believes President Eisenhower's proposal to finance a interstate highway system with a bond issue is sound and that he hopes work will be started on the proposal in the next congressional session.

Martin addressed the 50th anniversary of the Parish Pressed Steel Co. at Reading. He said the proposed highway system "when completed . . . will bring our people closer together and provide the means for a better understanding of our great country."

SGT. STANLEY J. WALTOS, Scranton, Security Policeman at Tobyhanna Signal Depot explains his prize winning suggestion to Colonel Robert C. Angster, Commanding Officer. Waltos' suggestion, which netted him $35.00 through the Army's Incentive Awards Program, concerned the rescheduling of security radio patrol cars which resulted in a savings to the taxpayer of some $728 annually.

West Apparently Trying To Snatch Defeat From Jaws Of Soviet Victory

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

SOME ASPECTS of the free world's responses to the Soviet diplomatic offensive may justify an observer's wonder whether the West is not doing its best to snatch defeat from the jaws of victory.

Soviet moves in the past few months offered the West a unique opportunity to press for a rollback of communism. Yet the responses these days seem to be waiting upon Soviet initiative. It looks as if the West is engaged in day-to-day jockeying and maneuvering which wait for each successive Russian bombshell to land and permit the Moscow offensive to pick up valuable momentum.

Failed By Tone

Apparently because the Soviet Union in the past few months has turned mild in tone, the West considers it must follow the Russian lead, step gingerly around the political arena for fear of offending sensitive feelings of Kremlin leaders who not many months ago were unloading bombast and verbal mayhem upon the world.

Secretary of State Dulles, in his policy speech to the United Nations, indicated an "Asia first" policy with regard to the United States' fears of world communism. He singled out Red China, saying "the record of this Communist regime has been an evil one." There were no such words for the Soviet Union, the record of whose leaders is far from unblemished in the same respects.

Following Dulles, Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov stated Moscow's case, careful to stick to the unfamiliar dulcet tones. That case remained the same as ever: in essence, a demand for utter defenselessness in the West.

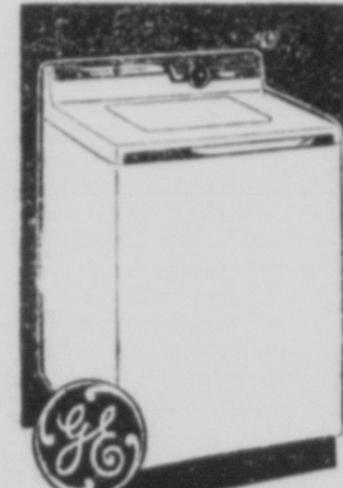

Are Soviets Scared?

The question arises whether the Soviet Union in its professed craving for European security is really scared of the prospect of a dozen German divisions in the West. That seems unlikely. Much more likely it is that Russia is deeply concerned with the prospect of German integration in a European community. That makes it possible that one day there might be an end to cutthroat practices among civilized nations, after which the heart of Europe could be forever placed outside the reach of revolutionary communism. The Soviet Union would probably go a long way to stop such a development.

If military aggression were the only worry, Russia smiles might be interpreted as the beginning of new era. But there has been no repudiation by Moscow or the Communist world of their political aggression. In fact, Red Boss Khrushchev recently boasted that these political aims remain intact.

Immobilizing Europe might go a long way toward opening the door for the next stage of Communist expansion.

Duff Blasts Leader For "Short-Pants" Politics, Division Of His Party

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa., Sept. 25 (P)—Sen. Duff (R-Pa) pictured Gov. Leader yesterday as "a short pants political upstart with no past, no present and no promise for the future."

At a Republican rally in Phoenixville, Duff hammered at Leader's recent criticism of President Eisenhower. In two speeches in California, Leader said Eisenhower "is not a great President and not a leader."

Sorry Mess!

Duff said "to date Gov. Leader has made a very sorry mess of his job as governor of Pennsylvania." The former Pennsylvania governor declared:

"Gov. Leader reminds me of a farmer I used to know who was always so busy attending to other people's affairs that he made a failure of his own because he never got around to doing his own spring plowing."

"With what propriety therefore can he prate on national leadership when he himself has shown none on behalf of his own state?"

Alienated Voters

"Leader says that President Eisenhower is not a leader. What bunk is this coming from a man who as a candidate was fuller of promises than a hound dog is full of fleas, but in less than nine months as governor has divided his own party, solidified his own opponents and alienated the vast majority of the voters in the state."

Duff said Leader's speeches criticising Eisenhower were "ghost written" and were received with regret in Pennsylvania."

Thank You, Folks!

The above incident is an actual item from our storm reports on last month's flood. Unfortunately, we can't directly thank this woman . . . for we don't know her name!

Her dramatic deed, so vital to our task of speedily restoring service, is highly significant, however, because it is representative of countless similar actions by a harassed, but helpful people. These valuable assists ranged from bulldozers to cups of steaming coffee! They included food readied for our men at all hours! Stores opened late at night to provide vital supplies! And, from right and left, offers of shelter, tools, boats and vehicles!

Everywhere there was a helping hand . . . and wherever a helping hand has come to be known, it has been my privilege to send, for the company, a personal letter of appreciation. However, there are hundreds of others like the unknown woman above whom I wish I could also personally thank . . . unfortunately, we don't know who they are.

Bill On Extra Two Hour Saturday Tap Room Time May Pass

Legislature
May Agree On Budget Figure

HARRISBURG, Sept. 25 (P)—A House Democratic leader said tonight that a highly controversial bill permitting public bars to remain open two additional hours Saturday nights has a good chance of passing the House this week.

"If the members really turn out this week we'll vote on it tomorrow or Tuesday," predicted Rep. John F. Stank (D-Northumberland) the chairman of the Liquor Control Committee.

The proposal, sponsored by four Democrats, has been on the House calendar for a final vote more than two months. It is backed by the retail liquor dealers of the state but opposed strongly by church and anti-liquor interests.

Lack Attendance

"The only reason for the delay has been the lack of attendance. Some of the missing members have always been sure yes votes and we won't take a chance of bringing it up when we know some of them aren't present," Stank explained.

Stank said he feels supporters of the bill have the 106 votes to pass it. "But we don't have too many to spare" he added.

A new try will be made Tuesday at a meeting of Republican and Democratic legislative leaders with Gov. Leader to work out a tax program to end the year-long fiscal deadlock.

Sen. Rowland B. Mahany, Republican Senate leader, said he hoped the two sides would agree this week on the amount of the state's budget for 1955-57. Then they would go into the question of the amount of new taxes needed to balance it and the specific levies to be imposed.

Gov. Leader has reduced his demand for new taxes to about $460 million dollars. Republicans have contended the amount can be pared to around $350 millions and that it could be raised by a two per cent sales tax, which Leader opposes.

Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic senate leader, renewed a statement that if a sales tax is enacted, Republicans must sponsor and vote for it and that the Democrats would provide sufficient votes to pass it.

Not Responsible

"We're not going to be saddled with the responsibility for a tax we never have favored," Dent told a reporter.

Chairman George N. Wade, of the Senate Highways Committee, indicated he would introduce a new bill requiring the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission to erect a medial barrier throughout the length of the 360-mile toll highway across the state.

Wade's bill would be substituted for another rejected bill, which would have required a medial strip for any highway in the state having a speed limit of 60 miles an hour or more.

The liquor bill, sponsored by Stank, Daniel Verona (Allegheny), and Louis Amarando and Marvin Bazin, both Philadelphia, would permit bars to remain open until 2 a.m. Sundays instead of forcing their shutdown at midnight Saturday-Sunday.

Meanwhile, the Senate was ready to give final legislative approval to a full scale investigation of the state training school at Morganza, Washington County, initiated in the Senate by Democrats, the proposal was passed by the House last week with an amendment that changed the size of the investigating committee.

Sen. Mahany, indicated that the Senate GOP majority would not oppose the change which would add four members to the investigating committee. The group would be composed of six senators and six house members and they would be evenly divided politically.

The investigation was prompted by charges of brutality at the institution.

In a weekend statement, Miles Horst, Republican state chairman, criticized conduct of Pennsylvania's highway building program under Gov. Leader.

Horst charged that road construction in the state now is at a lower ebb than it has been at any time since the end of World War II.

Horst's remarks came after the governor fixed "possibly next Tuesday" for introduction of the administration's highway program in the House.

Hagerty Hurt Enroute To Dad's Funeral

A 42-YEAR-OLD Stroudsburg salesman returned home yesterday after suffering injuries late Friday night when his car failed to negotiate a curve and smashed 12 guardrails along a northern Wayne County highway.

James H. Hagerty, 720 Scott St., had been admitted to General Hospital, Hancock, N. Y., where the attending physician, Dr. S. L. Bennett, said Hagerty's left ear was almost severed and the back of his head was severely lacerated.

Police said Hagerty was enroute home to attend the funeral of his father when his car failed to make a turn on Route 90, 26 miles north of Honesdale.

Hagerty was thrown from the vehicle as it smashed the guardrails, skidded sideways for more than 400 feet, scattering parts of the car along the highway as it went, police said.

Father Died

The Stroudsburg resident is a school supplies salesman working out of Utica, N. Y. He informed authorities that his father had died Wednesday and that he did not receive the news until Friday night because he was on a business trip.

Hagerty told police he doesn't remember a thing.

"I was just plain tired and probably fell asleep," police quoted him as saying.

Another motorist found Hagerty lying unconscious on the road some distance from his wrecked car, which was only purchased September 6th, and had been driven only 400 miles, police said.

Funeral services for his father, Blake F. Hagerty, were held Saturday. However, burial rites were temporarily postponed pending the return of his son from the New York hospital.

Nazareth Man Suffers Heart Attack While In Local Lake

THE BODY OF A 53-year-old Nazareth resident was found yesterday half submerged in water at Lake Chicola near Saylorsburg.

State Police identified the victim as Russell Fenstermacher, whose body was discovered by John Kostebader, Nazareth, owner of a group of cottages at the lake.

Dr. Charles P. Rushmore, Monroe County coroner, said present indications are that Fenstermacher suffered a heart attack. However, the case still is under investigation.

Troopers quoted a relative as saying the victim has suffered about two heart seizures in the past.

Rented Cottage

State Police said Fenstermacher rented a cottage from Kostebader sometime ago. Since the latter had not seen the victim for about nine days, he decided to look for him yesterday.

At the lake, State Police discovered Kostebader found the victim with all but his head and shoulders submerged in the water.

While Dr. Rushmore was not immediately able to say when death occurred, troopers quoted a relative as saying she had seen the victim as late as last Tuesday.

Investigating officers were Troopers Jack Crissy and Eugene McGuire. The body was removed to the William Kresge Funeral Home, Brodheadsville.

Sportsmen Plan Meeting

MEMBERS OF the Pocono Mountains Sportsmen's Association will conduct their first meeting of the Fall season at 8 p.m., Wednesday at the Stroudsburg Municipal Building.

It's expected that members will discuss what can be done to improve area streams prior to the opening of next year's trout season. All members are requested to attend the session.

Hospital Notes

An estimated 700 million dollars a year is being spent on new U. S. religious structures.

Both animals were taken from a sheep shelter constructed of stone and wood. The bears are able to rip their way into the shelter, Mrs. Rubino explained.

Noting that game wardens are doing all they can, Mrs. Rubino said they have permission to shoot any bears around their property.

However, traps are considered too dangerous, since they may accidentally catch other animals, or even people.

John H. Doebling, a state game protector, disclosed that the Pennsylvania Game Commission is paying for the slain animals.

However, the carcass must be found before the State will make payment, Mrs. Rubino explained.

Doebling has received $25 apiece for two prize sheep lost earlier this year, she said, and the boy is now waiting for his agriculture instructor to place a value on the ewe lost Tuesday. He has been unable to find the carcasses of two of the slain animals.

New Reserve Law Wheels Turn Slowly Surely For Nation's High School Youth

Starting off at slow speed but with indication of picking up more and more momentum as time passes, the new Reserve Law is beginning to move in the direction of accomplishment envisaged by its sponsors, and the first youths to grasp the opportunities presented them by the act are preparing to begin training on Oct. 3.

The wheels turn slowly as the parents of high school youths only now are being informed of the chance for six months of active duty for their schoolboy sons, but acceptance of this brief period of service as against the minimum two years of the draft is growing daily.

Primarily of interest to parents, and to parent-teacher groups throughout the state and nation, is this six-months provision whereby a minimum of interruption of education permits boys of the 17 to 18½ year group to volunteer for reserve duty and, after completion of the half-year of active duty training, continue on to school or college while maintaining active participation with their reserve unit.

Actually, high school students in the age group mentioned may defer their active duty training of six months until they graduate from school or reach the age of 20, but in the meantime they are building up credit in service in their chosen outfit.

The wheel turns slowly, admittedly, but we are convinced that as more fathers and mothers, as well as their teen-age sons, learn of this opportunity to serve their country's armed forces without being called by selective service, the program will get into high gear.

Your Income Tax Dreams May Fail, But There's New Progress With Forms

If you're one of the 60 million Americans who figure that Uncle Sam always adds insult to injury at income tax-filing time, there's good news today.

New simplified income tax forms, the boys in the Internal Revenue Service just have announced, will make it as easy for you as falling off a log.

Hmm... You won't be branded any more, either. Those tell-tale colored stripes on the envelope, which told nosy neighbors the neighborhood of your income, have been removed.

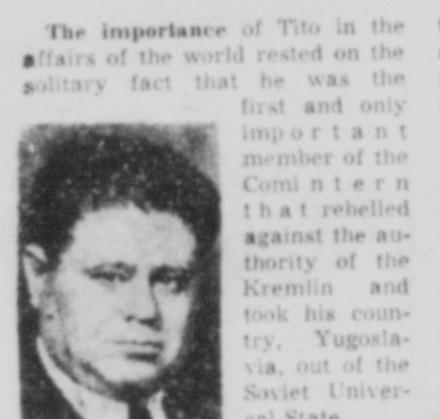

Hmm... Some of this, you must admit, sounds like progress.

Even if you won't believe it until you see it.

Even if you cynically suspect that the whole deal eventually will wind up with Uncle Sam taking every dime you make, making out the income tax form himself, and mailing it to you, along with a check for your share.

Gerge Sokolsky Says...

Tito's Position Regarding U.S. Most Critical Question In Europe

The importance of Tito in the affairs of the world rested on the solitary fact that he was the first and only important member of the Comintern that had rebelled against the authority of the Kremlin and took his country, Yugoslavia, out of the Soviet Universal State. Josip Tito Broz accomplished this without rejecting Marxism. He had adopted this thesis first propounded by Earl Browder in his insistence upon American exceptionalism, that within the Marxist world all countries can be equal and different according to local conditions; that while it is true that the first country successfully to conduct a Marxist revolution was Soviet Russia, it did not mean that all Marxist countries were, because of that, necessarily subordinated to the Kremlin. Browder was dismissed from the Communist Party for this view, but Tito adopted it for Yugoslavia.

The West applauded Tito and the United States provided gifts and credits. Tito became a strong man in Europe, stronger and more important than the size and strength of his country, Yugoslavia, warranted. Part of his strength came from his membership in the Balkan Alliance of which Greece and Turkey are members. Although Tito is neutral, he nevertheless has affiliations with NATO through the Balkan Alliance. Russia has already paid Tito an enormous price to get him out of the Balkan Alliance and therefore out of NATO, but up to this moment, Tito has given no indication to warrant the assumption that he has changed his attitude concerning his relations with the West.

Should Tito leave the Balkan Alliance, the balance of power artfully established in Europe through the creation of NATO will be upset and Europe will be in such turmoil as it knew between 1945 and 1948. This makes Tito a very important personality to be courted by all sides—role which he apparently enjoys very much and which gives his country an enormous advantage.

However, Soviet Russia has already gained two benefits: 1. By apologizing to Tito for his expulsion from the Comintern on the ground that he had been mistreated by Stalin (the name Beria was used), the Russians lessened the possibility of the organization of an anti-Kremlin Communist Alliance with Tito at its head, which would challenge the Kremlin's authority in the Soviet Universal State. Tito hoped that in time, Mao Tse-tung would defect and join him in such a grouping of schismatic Marxist nations.

2. By developing closer relations between the Kremlin and Tito, Khrushchev has managed to put a real scare into the West. NATO needs Tito's 30 divisions and despite Tito's neutrality, counted on them through the Balkan Alliance. The NATO chiefs are now uncertain as to where Tito would stand in a clinch. They do not know. All the guessing is beneficial to Khrushchev who uses it for nuisance value in his contest with the West.

To Tito, the present situation is wonderful because of its black-mail value. Tito, of course, has assured the West that he is still with them, and the recent state visit of the King of Greece to Tito is a most hopeful sign.

This situation has been complicated by the neutralization of Austria, one of the biggest defeats which the NATO Powers have suffered in Europe. No matter how much apologetic propaganda paints the Austrian neutralization as a success, it was a failure, a bitter failure for American diplomacy. We have been forced to remove our troops to Italy where they are not wanted, and the bridge between Italy and West Germany—which was Austria—has disappeared. It is now a much tougher problem to hold Italy, West Germany and the Balkan Alliance countries together.

What had Soviet Russia really withdrawn from Austria? Actually nothing. Hungary has 12 divisions. Rumania 15. Bulgaria 12 and Albania 3. All that really holds these divisions in check is Tito's army and what we need to know for sure is whether Tito is for us or against us. It is crucial.

Just Between Us
—By Bobby Westbrook

Fortunately now we can start on a flood of a different kind. A flood of weddings is what we had this weekend. I doubt if the weather was what they would have chosen, but through some miracle that protects brides, they all arrived at the church, un-rain spotted and looking as beautiful as they're supposed to look.

And a flood of meetings is what we're going to have this week. For a fourth week we're certainly boomerang, and what it will be when we start October is hard to imagine.

PTA and Music Boosters, federated clubs and Sunday school classes, fire company auxiliaries and granges—all of them brimming with programs and projects and trying to make up for lost time.

Lost sleep is what I'm going to try to make up for. These have been busy days for all of us. Through the Rally Day services yesterday, I kept feeling sort of like Rip Van Winkle, waking from a 20 year sleep.

What with summer-time and vacations and then the flood and its aftermath, there hasn't been time to notice the children this summer. Take your eyes off them for that length of time and poof: they've grown a couple of weeks in height and a couple of years in maturity.

You rub your eyes to see who's wearing lipstick and stockings this year, at last year's babies sporting first-grade gaps in their baby teeth, and the deep voices of last winter's boy sopranos.

Following the ceremony, a reception for about 75 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. Decorations included white streamers and wedding bells and a three-tier wedding cake.

For their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Slutter toured North Carolina, Virginia and Washington, D. C. For traveling the bride wore a blue and white corded suit with blue and white shoes, white hat and gloves and orchid corsage. They are now making their home at 74 Broad St., Stroudsburg.

Raymond Possinger of 1144 West Main St., Stroudsburg, was the best man.

The bride's mother wore a blue print dress, black hat and shoes and a corsage of yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue and white dress, white hat and a corsage of yellow roses.

The bride and groom are both graduates of Stroudsburg High School. The bride is employed at Bell Telephone Co. and the bridegroom will be the speaker at the meeting.

Water Gap PTA Meets Tonight

Delaware Water Gap — The Delaware Water Gap Parent-Teachers Association will hold its first meeting of the new year on Monday night at 8 at the school.

Dr. Bennett Strait, supervisor of special education in Monroe, Pike and Wayne Counties, will be the speaker at the meeting.

Lydin Christensen and Lulu Miller reported on the convention which they had attended in Pittsburgh as delegates of the local order.

At the state conference Mrs. Edna Blitz was named sub-chairman of the Eastern section for the TB Fund.

Installation of officers will be featured at the next meeting to be held the fourth Thursday in October. The department Chaplain, Mrs. Edna Hassinger will be the installing officer.

Refreshments were served following the meeting.

and Delicatessen Shop. The bridegroom was graduated from Stroudsburg High School with the Class of 1952 and served two years in the U. S. Navy in the European theater. He is employed by the Coates Board and Carter Corporation of Minisink Hills.

Immediately after the reception the bridal couple left for a Canadian honeymoon. For her going away attire the bride wore a green tweed wool suit with beige accessories and a white orchid corsage. Upon their return they will live temporarily in an apartment until their new home is completed on East Brown Street in East Stroudsburg.

The bride's mother wore beige lace over taffeta in a street length dress with matching accessories and wore a red rose-bud corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a steel blue taffeta street length dress with pink and black accessories and a pink rose-bud corsage.

Immediately after their wedding the newlyweds were feted to a reception at the Elk's Club which was attended by 150 guests. A tiered wedding cake surrounded by a miniature bride and bridegroom featured the decorative arrangement of the reception hall.

She carried a Colonial bouquet of yellow and rust pom-poms and yellow rose-buds. Lawrence R. Swink, brother of the bridegroom was best-man, and Douglas Townsend, Jr. served as acolyte. John A. Mery and Raymond L. Mery, brothers of the bride, were ushers.

Martin Mery, cousin of the bride, played a medley of wedding arias on the violin prior to the ceremony. He was accompanied by Mrs. Doris Philips of Stroudsburg who presided at the console.

The bridal couple knelt before the altar on a white satin pillow during the wedding prayers and also received the sacrament of Holy Communion during the service. White carnations filled the bronze altar vases and white gladioli bouquets and potted palms graced the chancel.

The bride's mother chose a dress of Dior blue with pink accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a Navy-blue street-length dress with matching accessories and a corsage comprised of peach carnations.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held in the social rooms of the parish house where 100 guests enjoyed the nuptial festivities. A three-tiered wedding cake formed the center of the elaborate decorations. The Women's Guild of the parish under the direction of Mrs. Florence Bush served.

The bridegroom attended Stroudsburg High School and was formerly employed by the Medical Division of The Blue Valley Service. He is presently the Inhalation Therapist at the Allentown General Hospital in Allentown. The bride was graduated from East Stroudsburg High School with the Class of 1949 and has been employed in the office of the Monroe County General Hospital in East Stroudsburg.

The bridal couple left following the reception for a New England and Canadian honeymoon. For her going away attire the bride wore a black and red two piece suit of imported cotton with black accessories and a red rose-bud corsage. Upon their return the newlyweds will reside in Allentown.

Present were: Mrs. Willard Webster, Mrs. Norman Faneen, Mrs. Anthony Bolyn, Mrs. Russell Stout, Mrs. John Hamblin and the hostess, Mrs. Knerr.

I. B. Miller
Suggests
Extra Rooms

WOULD YOU like to add an attractive extra room to your present living space without spending a barrel of money? Then you'll be wise to check carefully into all the various Add-A-Room possibilities that are open to you through I. B. Miller Jr., general contractor, Pocono Summit.

Whether you're interested in adding a new bedroom, rumpus room, combination den-guest room, or something else, chances are you can find some space that's already under roof which you can use for the project.

Roof Areas

These under-roof areas, at any rate, are the first you should consider, since it's generally much more economical to utilize such an area than build an entire new addition.

The cost of a particular Add-A-Room project depends of course on many factors such as the exact size of the new room, the building materials used, the nature of any plumbing and heating installations, etc., which may be necessary.

It is often possible to create an additional room in a basement or attic on a $400 budget, or to convert a garage or enclose a porch or breezeway for about $800 to $1,000.

Reasonable

If one considers the value of an added room, and what it can mean in increased comfort, convenience and pleasure, these figures are reasonable indeed.

To secure expert advice and guidance, consult I. B. Miller. Mr. Miller can build the entire room or just the shell of the addition, installing wiring and heating, and let you finish the job yourself.

Almost always, a well-designed room adds far more to the value of a home than it costs. Home-improvement loans for this purpose are available for this type of work.

Removing Marks

WHITE marks on furniture can frequently be removed by wiping with a mixture of one teaspoonful of cedar vinegar to one quart of water. Be sure to wipe in the direction of the wood grain and then wipe dry.

COMFORTABLE FURNISHINGS, color harmony and a complete decorating theme tailored to this specific room led to the satisfying results above. These two young honeymooners are relaxing in the living room of their cottage at Paradise Valley Lodge, near Mt. Pocono. The Lodge recently opened a new unit of four cottages; each contains a living room, bedroom and bath. The Paint Service Center, 517 Main St., assisted Mr. and Mrs. Paul Asure, owner-operators, in planning the entire decorating scheme for the new cottages.

Ford Motor Co. To Make Careful Plant-Soil Study

ACCORDING TO RECENT communications received by Raymond Price Sr. of Raymond Price Inc., of Mountainhome, local Ford Tractor Dealer, fundamental research on some of the most challenging problems of plant growth—the relationships between plant roots and the soil—will be undertaken by the University of Michigan with a grant of $100,000 from Ford Motor Company Fund.

Despite all of the great advances made in the technology of crop growth, little is known about many of the basic mechanisms involved in plant growth. One of the most important of these "unknowns" is the means by which the roots absorb essential nutrient minerals from the soil and how these minerals are used in meeting the requirements of plant growth.

"Knowledge of the mechanisms of nutrient uptake and the ability of different plants to absorb essential minerals could ultimately result in higher crop yields," President Hatcher of the UN of Michigan stated. "It would permit the development of new varieties of man and animals."

The research grant, which will cover a three-year period, was announced jointly by Henry Ford II, president of Ford Motor Company, and U-M President Harlan Hatcher in connection with the formal opening of the Ford Tractor and Implement Division's new Farm Machinery Research and Engineering Center at Birmingham, Michigan.

In a letter to President Hatcher, Mr. Ford said, "I am very pleased to report that the Board of Trustees of the Ford Motor Company Fund has approved a grant of $100,000 to the University of Michigan for the research program on plant nutrition."

Asure's Lodge At Mt. Pocono Unusual Job

THE PAINT Service Center is far more than a paint and wallpaper firm.

"The progressive store for color, style and service," as it is known, offers customers a complete decorating service. They can also custom mix the special colors of your choice, they can also work out an entire decorating motif for your home, motel or resort.

The Paint Service Center recently co-ordinated a complete decorating job with Paul and May Asure, owners of Paradise Valley Lodge, near Mt. Pocono.

Theme of the job, which centered around the Lodge's new unit of four cottages, was to create a perfect setting for honeymooners. Colors were arranged to blend and harmonize from one room to another and each unit was decorated according to its exposure. Warm colors were used in cooler rooms; darker tones in lighter rooms and vice versa.

Kem-Glo Used

Woodwork was painted in Sherwin-Williams Kem-Glo, duplicating background colors from the wallpaper. This tends to "hide" the woodwork and blend it in with the entire decorating theme. This also gives the appearance of larger space areas.

John Muller of the Paint Service Center staff, worked with Mr. and Mrs. Asure in planning the job. He explained that bold wallpaper patterns were used on some walls and plain on others to give the illusion of more space and better balance.

In the bath, Sanitas wallcovering was used. Asam dogwood patterns were used in the living rooms and companion Asam patterns, or plain colors, in the bed-rooms.

Mr. Muller also installed heavy-duty Flexalum venetian blinds, which carry a factory 10-year guarantee. These type blinds, he explained, are equipped with all vinyl cord and plastic tape.

Use For Melting Ice

TO LOWER a heavy vault or other weighty object flush to a floor, insert blocks of ice before removing jacks. As the ice melts, speeded by fans if necessary, the heavy object settles evenly into place.

Space For Expansion

A SPACE of one-eighth should be left between sections of wallboard when they are installed. This will prevent the material from bulging out if it absorbs moisture.

Leader Says Sales Tax To Solve Nothing

SHARON, Pa., Sept. 25 (UPI)—Gov. Leader says a two per cent sales tax as proposed by Republicans would "do nothing substantial towards solving the state's fiscal needs."

Instead, he told a meeting of the 21st district of the CIO United Steelworkers yesterday, "it would inevitably work a pronounced and viciously inequitable hardship on wage earners."

Program Unknown

The Democratic governor said he doesn't know "what kind of a tax program is going to be worked out to pay the commonwealth's bills."

Leader said the Republican majority in the Senate has "so complicated the process of government by inaction that we are still hard at work—months behind schedule."

"It may even be that the Democratic administration will not succeed in the programs it has outlined and presented for the benefit of the people of the commonwealth."

Shorter Term Approved By School Board

NEWFOUNDLAND—A tentative school calendar calling for 170 days of school was adopted at a recent meeting of the Greene-Dreher-Sterling Joint School Board.

The board passed a resolution requesting approval of the plan by the Department of Public Instruction, pointing out that repair of flood damage forced the postponement of the opening of school which, in turn, will prevent the local jointure to conduct the customary 180 days.

Final decision in the proposal lies with the state department. Unofficial sources have revealed that Dr. Ralph Swan, head of the department, stated that approval would be forthcoming upon receipt of the resolution.

The calendar, with all dates inclusive:

Oct. 3, school opens; Nov. 24-25, Thanksgiving recess; Dec. 24-Jan. 2, Christmas vacation; March 30, Easter recess; April 13, teachers' institute; May 30, Memorial Day recess; June 8, school closes.

Wable Seeks Death Stay On Grounds "Jim Parks", Exists, Fired Death Gun

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 23 (UPI)—A young factory worker, convicted of being the phantom slayer of the Pennsylvania Turnpike today hoped to escape the electric chair by finding a mysterious man police say doesn't exist.

Atty. A. C. Scales asked the Pennsylvania Supreme Court yesterday to stay the execution of John Wesley Wable, 26, of Ohiopyle, Pa. He is scheduled to die at Rockview prison in Bellefonte, Pa., tomorrow night.

Scales told the court in his petition that he has evidence that persons in Ohio saw Wable in the company of Jim Parks. The attorney went to Cleveland yesterday to question the persons whom he declined to identify.

At trial, Wable insisted "a Jim Parks" fired the shots that killed Harry F. Pitts, 39-year-old truck driver from Bowling Green, Va. Pitts was shot while he slept in his parked truck on the turnpike.

State police said they examined every clue in Wable's story but were unable to find any proof that Jim Parks exists.

Wable was arrested in New Mexico five months after the three shooting occurred within a period of nine days. A gun found in a place where Wable roamed in Cleveland was identified as the weapon used in all three shootings. Parks fired all of the shots.

The Supreme Court is expected to rule on the petition tomorrow—several hours before Wable is scheduled to die at 9 p.m. (EST).

If the delay is granted the high court also must order Westmoreland County court to reopen the case and take testimony on the new evidence. Scales says he is hopeful it will lead to a new trial for Wable.

Only last week the Westmoreland County court turned down an

Three Local Games On New Dates

EAST Stroudsburg and Pen Argyl High Schools will collide in a Lehigh-Northampton League football battle on the latter's home terrain today. The kickoff is scheduled to take place at 3 p.m. at Weona Park.

These same two foes were scheduled to do battle at Weona Park last Saturday, but rain and wet grounds forced postponement.

East Stroudsburg has changed the date for its clash with Bangor from next Friday to next Saturday night at Memorial Stadium, while the Pen-Argyl-East Stroudsburg Junior Varsity tilt, also set for Memorial Stadium, will take place tomorrow at 4 p.m. instead of today.

Coach Jack Kist announced last night that he would go to the post with the same lineup that he announced previously.

Reserves

Ralph Carter and Denny Wagner are other backs expected to see action. Frank Lupin, bothered with an ailing knee, will be on the sidelines today.

Elwood Mosteller, end; John Birner, guard; Ed Yakencheck, guard; Dick Wolslayer, center; Roger Strouse, tackle, and Less Bernbaum, center, are also expected to see action today.

Saturday's bad weather also forced postponement of the Lehighton-Summit Hill grid battle until today. This switch in turn made it necessary for Lehighton to switch its junior varsity outing with Stroudsburg from today until tomorrow at 3 p.m., at Lehighton.

Lewis R. Hastic, faculty athletic manager at East Stroudsburg High, also announced on Saturday that the game between the Cavaliers and Lehighton had been changed from Friday night, October 7, to Saturday night, October 8.

Rams Tame Frisco, 23-14

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25 (P)—The Los Angeles Rams threw a bristling defense against San Francisco today and used four self-made breaks to whip the 49ers, 23-14, in their National Football League opener before a capacity crowd of 60,000 at Kezar Stadium.

Interceptions

Pass interceptions set up two touchdowns and a recovered fumble another after the Rams had rocked the 49ers back on their heels at the start with a blocked punt, two-point safety.

REDLEGS CRUSH CHICAGO, 13-0

CINCINNATI, Sept. 25 (P)—The Cincinnati Redlegs today racked up the football score of 13-0 against the Chicago Cubs on Art Fowler's four-hitter, shutout pitching and a slashing attack which included two home runs by catcher Smoky Burgess.

But, in this reporters book the line play of Doug Shook and Don Stopp in the second half was the crowning point of the ball game as far as Stroudsburg was concerned.

Emmaus gained very little yardage through the center of the host line in the second half, as Shook and Stopp turned one thrust after another aside.

The same plays that ate up huge chunks of yardage for Emmaus in the first half failed in the third and fourth quarters.

Ronnie Stopp did a fine job at quarterback for Stroudsburg and might have turned in an even better showing with some help from the line in the first half. Ronnie "Super" Phillips was the best runner on the field in the second half and his 47-yard scamper, with a big assist from the line, is still a topic of conversation. Bob Phillips did a fine job on defense in the home team's backfield.

The same plays that ate up huge chunks of yardage for Emmaus in the first half failed in the third and fourth quarters.

Stroudsburg learned a lesson in the first two periods, received instructions at halftime and went out to put what they had learned into practice. The result was a 7-0 edge for the Mountaineers in the second half. But, it all came too late as Emmaus had piled up 20 points in the first two quarters. Stroudsburg lost its first two games, but the club is showing sparks of strength and has escaped injury.

Pirates Fire Haney In House Cleaning Move

By Charles Welsh

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 25 (P)—The Pittsburgh Pirates today fired manager Fred Haney in a move obviously designed to clear the decks for a change in the club's top management.

Haney disclosed to reporters that he had received a letter from general manager Branch Rickey notifying him that his contract was being terminated.

The two-year agreement carried a provision on automatic renewal next season unless terminated by either party before the end of this season.

Today was the final game for the Pirates and they lost to the National League champion Brooklyn Dodgers 4-0. Curiously enough, the attendance reached ed 25,185 for the "Award Day contest." It was the biggest crowd at home for the Pirates this season.

Fans in the stands were not advised of Haney's dismissal.

A Pirate official who pointed up the significance of the dismissal as clearing the way for any possible change in the Pirate front office said also that it was not impossible that Haney might come back next year—after the general manager party before the end of this season.

Rickey has said he will not continue as general manager. But his contract has an arrangement for Rickey to remain for five more years in an unspecified advisory capacity.

A Pirate official who pointed up the significance of the dismissal, however, had no doubt of the finality of the action.

Speaking softly and without any indication of anger at the dismissal, Haney told a reporter:

"I've been fired before and it's not great shock. In this business you either do or you don't; we didn't, and somebody had to get it."

Losing today, the Pirates wound up the season in last place with 60 victories and 94 losses. However, that was the best won-loss record for the club since Rickey came here five years ago.

LeBaron Leads 'Skins To Nod Over Browns

CLEVELAND, Sept. 25 (UPI)—Scoring in each quarter, the Washington Redskins, starring Eddie LeBaron, humbled pro football's champion Cleveland Browns 27-17 today in the opener before 30,941 fans.

Quarterback LeBaron, at 168 pounds and 5-8 one of the smallest men in pro football, was the big man on the field. He passed 24 yards and 17 yards to Johnny Carson for two touchdowns, scampered 13 yards on a tricky last quarter scoring run and set up the first touchdown with a 70-yard pass play gain.

The Redskins led all the way in defeating the Browns after nine straight losses to Cleveland going back to the 1950 season.

BIG GUNS

Three Redskins backs from a season in the Canadian pro league played the big role in Washington's fine showing today—LeBaron, end Gene Brito and halfback Norb Hecker.

The Browns showed sustained offensive power only in the third quarter. George Ratterman took over for Otto Graham in the quarterback job during the second half and threw two touchdown passes in the third quarter—to Pete Werner for 21 yards, and to Ray Renfro for 8 yards.

The Browns' only other score was a 44-yard field goal as the half was ending by Lou Groza who had missed a 23-yard shot at the opening of the second quarter.

Backfield

In the backfield, it will probably be Frankie Butz at quarterback directing Ron DeNardo and Barry Reimer from the halves and Phil Vonelli from fullback.

Other backs likely to see action are Bob Stansberry, "Skip" Monheim, Bob Itterly, Curt Kerner, and Jimmy Wills. Linemen available for relief duty are Eric Godshall, Bob Ferris, and Earl Hasenwag; George Collura, Gary Smith and Fred Hockin tackles; Joe Martucci and Sherwood LaBar, guards; and "Patsy" Lerasis and Hugh Parsons, pivotmen.

Wide Margin

The Crowe keggers won by a wide margin in each game.

"Hank" Everhart led the Parkway club with a high single game of 216 and a high match total of 575. Jack Darr's 198 was second on the single list, while Russ Bergman's 556 was number two on the match list.

Three Redskins backs from a season in the Canadian pro league played the big role in Washington's fine showing today—LeBaron, end Gene Brito and halfback Norb Hecker.

Top Experts' Statement Is Satisfactory

cal Department, and Lt. Col. J. A. Sheehy, his assistant. Also sitting in at the consultation were Maj. Gen. Martin Griffin, the Fitzsimons commanding officer, and Col. Don Carle, deputy commander.

Good Care
Hagerty made it clear that the President is at no time left without a competent medical man at his bedside.

At the consultation, which started immediately after Dr. White's arrival here, the Boston expert was given not only a complete review of what occurred from the time of the heart attack, but a report on the President's past medical history.

Hagerty met with newsmen at 4:15 p.m. MST. He said that a fourth cardiogram—which measures heart performance—was in progress at the time he left the hospital.

Three previous readings, he said earlier, show that the cardiograph pattern "has undergone the usual changes of a coronary case but that there are no complications, that the President's strength is good and his condition has remained stable."

Use of the term "moderate" to describe the President's heart attack recalled that the seizure was first termed "mild" by Dr. Snyder, the White House physician.

Later yesterday, the world mild was dropped from medical bulletins. Today, newsmen asked Hagerty what distinction the physicians drew between the two terms—mild and moderate. It was then that the press secretary said he asked Dr. White about that and the Boston specialist told him his definition of "moderate" would be "it was neither mild nor was it serious."

Dr. White will remain overnight at the hospital as a guest of Col. Mattingly and see the President again tomorrow.

The president is still in an oxygen tent.

Earlier today favorable reports came from physicians attending the President.

A bulletin signed by his personal physician said: "The President had a very satisfactory night. His blood pressure and pulse continued stable. There were no complications."

This was issued at 7:30 a.m. MST by Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder and Col. George M. Powell, chief of the Medical Department at Fitzsimons.

About two hours later, at 9:30 a.m., Col. Thomas W. Mattingly, Army heart specialist flown from Washington, told newsmen:

Gets On Well

"There is nothing at the time being to change our previous reports. He's getting on very well, very well."

Democrats Pray
The President, who will be 65 on Oct. 14, is in an oxygen tent, described as routine procedure in treatment of heart cases. Asked by newsmen if the President was doing any reading, presidential press secretary James G. Hagerty said, "He is trying to get as complete a rest as is humanly possible."

Hagerty is in a meeting with newsmen—his second of the day—said the President "is not running any fever and has not run a fever" since he was stricken.

Hagerty emphasized that he was not giving out a medical bulletin or holding a news conference, but simply wanted to answer some of the questions raised at earlier meetings.

Hagerty disclosed that the President was "supported and assisted" to his car when he left the residence of Mrs. John S. Doud, his mother-in-law, for the hospital yesterday after the heart attack.

Aided To Car

Hagerty said the doctors told him the car was parked in the driveway and that the President, who will be 65 years old Oct. 14, was "supported and assisted" from his second-floor bedroom and down the four or five steps of the driveway incline as well as out of the car at the hospital and up to his eighth-floor suite at Fitzsimons General Hospital.

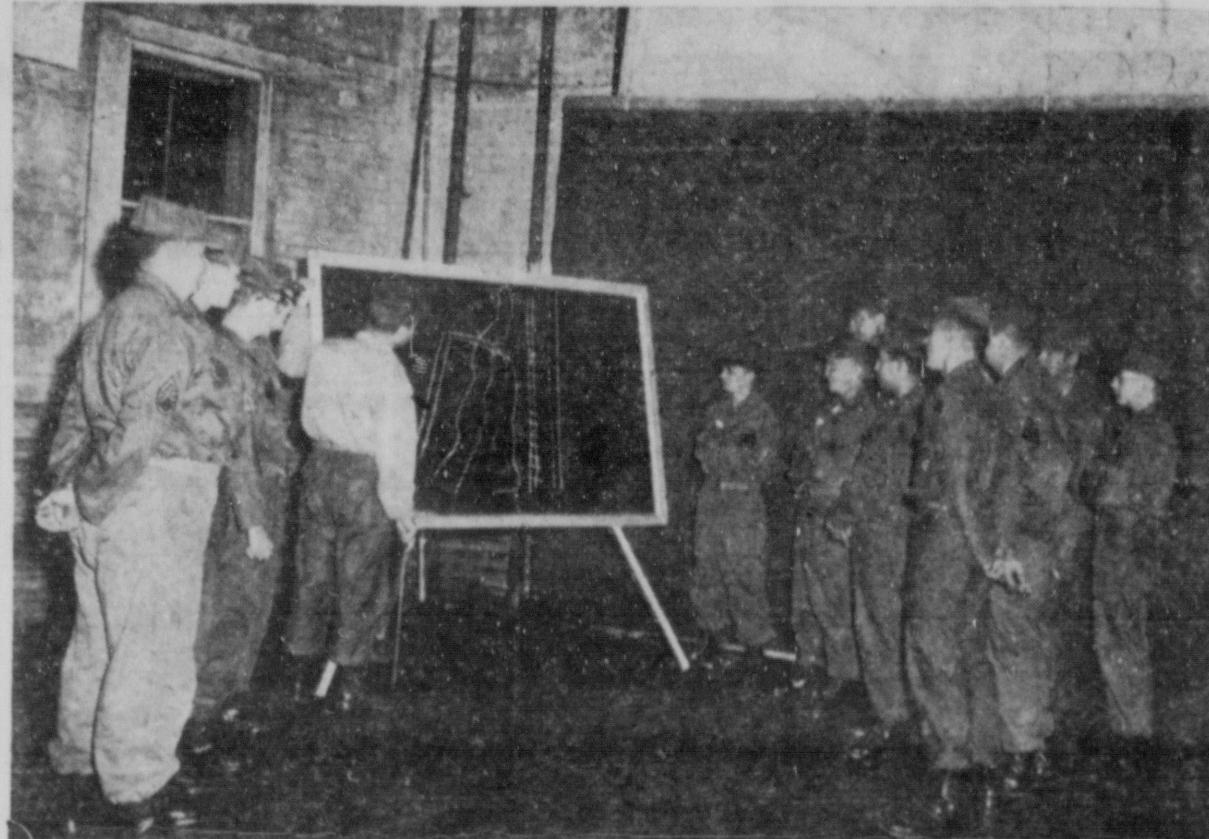

"The doctors said this was the easiest way," Hagerty said, "and better than putting him into a litter and trying to get him into a car."

Earlier reports had said the President walked unassisted to the automobile after suffering the attack.

Hagerty said the President was not forced to tax his strength under this procedure.

He also disclosed that electrocardiograph tracings were run on the President for the third time at 8:30 a.m., the first having been made at 1:30 p.m. yesterday and the second at 8 p.m. yesterday. The tracings reflect heart action.

"All I can say on that," Hagerty

Damage Slight In Two-Car Wreck

A TWO-CAR collision near White Haven Saturday morning resulted in a total $550 damage to the two autos involved.

Fern Ridge State Police said a car operated by Henry Snyder, 19, Star Route, Three Springs, crashed into another vehicle, driven by Delbert Kohler, 47, Linden, Pa. Neither driver was injured.

extent of the attack."

Hagerty replied that he planned to keep the country "fully informed" about the President's condition through the news channels but he said he was "not going to add anything" to what he was told by the doctors.

Many Messages

He said that in explaining his refusal to answer questions as to the exact seriousness of the distinguished patient's condition,

He said "thousands of messages" are pouring into the summer White House from people eager about the President's health.

Reporters covering the President here are maintaining a day and night vigil at the press room on the Lowry Air Force Base, the President's headquarters here, at Fitzsimons, and at the residence of Mrs. John S. Doud, Mrs. Eisenhower's mother. The Eisenhowers are staying at the Doud home.

As Hagerty reconstructed events of early Saturday, the President apparently called Mrs. Eisenhower when he had his attack Saturday morning and she called Dr. Snyder, the President's physician. Dr. Snyder called in other doctors and an electrocardiograph was brought in that afternoon. It was after the cardiograph tracings, he said, that the newsmen were told that the President had suffered a heart attack.

Leading heart specialists from Washington and Boston were summoned to Denver for consultation as people of all religious and political faiths prayed for his recovery.

Son Flying In

Hagerty announced for the first time that the President's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, is flying from Washington.

He said he would meet young Eisenhower and take him directly to the hospital.

Hagerty said the President's son was not summoned here "and as a matter of fact, it was his decision to come." He said he didn't know whether Maj. Eisenhower would stay at the hospital or the Doud home.

Democrats Pray

While most Democrats naturally feel that their chances for victory next year would be enhanced by the retirement of Eisenhower, there was no hint of this feeling in their public reaction to word of the President's illness.

The top leaders of the party, like former President Harry S. Truman, and Adlai Stevenson, the defeated standard bearer of 1952, spoke only of their prayers for the President's speedy recovery.

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York spoke in a similar vein. He figures with Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee in most of the speculation over Democratic possibilities for 1956.

Certainly nobody in the President's vacation camp was talking politics at a time like this.

Nobody talked openly about anything but the state of the President's health.

Oxygen Tent

Hagerty said there was no indication thus far of how long the President will have to remain in the hospital. The oxygen tent in which the President has been kept since his arrival at the hospital enables the chief executive to "rest more easily" Hagerty said.

Murray Snyder, Hagerty's assistant, told newsmen that there was a 12-hour lag between the time of the heart attack and the announcement of it because Dr. Snyder waited until a diagnosis had been "completed."

Hagerty showed up at the Army hospital at 6:30 a.m. to get his first report of the day from the doctors.

A reporter told Hagerty that the bulletins "do not characterize the wave of favorite son candidacies. Among such, Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts stands out as a possibility. Herter, who is 60, was born of American parents in Paris, France. While the question of native birth might be raised, none thought it would be a serious obstacle if he becomes a candidate. The Constitution limits the presidency to "natural born citizens."

If he chose, Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of California might make trouble in his home state for both Nixon and another potential candidate, Senate Minority Leader William Knowland. Solid home state support is traditionally vital to presidential aspirants.

Beside Knowland, Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois is among senators mentioned as a possible candidate, Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin has been flirting with the idea of trying to gather some delegates. What effect the President's illness will have on McCarthy's critical attitude toward the President remains to be seen.

On Ike's Record
Whether the President's backing will provide the clincher in obtaining the nomination of his favorite will be demonstrated by developments. But in any event the Republicans appear likely to have to run on Eisenhower's record.

This record has been under severe attack recently by the Democrats. They have been contending that "big business" dominates his administration. They have been beating the drums about falling farm prices to such an extent that Secretary of Agriculture Benson has said Eisenhower will recommend some remedial legislation to the next session of Congress.

The Republicans hope they will be able to continue their "peace and prosperity" chant through elec-
